VOL. LXI: No. 16 — REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, JULY 16, 1921 — ESTABLISHED 1859

$300,000 FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL

The board of trustees of Sequoia Union High School held an important meeting in the office of the high school building on Thursday afternoon. Those present were: Chairman L. P. Behrens; Clerk D. E. O'Keefe, and Trustees T. O. Heydenfeldt, Edward H. Greeley and W. A. Emmett.

After considerable discussion it was agreed to submit to the voters of the district a proposition to bond the district for $300,000 for the purpose of erecting a new high school building on the Fissis property in Redwood Highlands recently bought by the trustees for $80,000, the deed for which was filed in the office of County Recorder T. C. Rice this week. The election will be held on Friday, August 26.

The bonds will extend over a period of 20 years and are to mature at the rate of $15,000 a year. The rate of interest is to be six per cent per annum. In all probability the bonds will not be offered for sale until next January. At that time the trustees believe a nice premium will be obtained. Attorney George C. Ross was at the meeting to guide the trustees in the legal formality. The notice of the election will appear in the Times-Gazette next week. Should the election fail the trustees will go before the board of supervisors in September and ask for a direct tax for the funds to erect the contemplated building. This would be a great burden on the taxpayers but it would have to be done as the present quarters in the high school are overcrowded. More room is imperative and must be provided. The bond issue, as proposed by the trustees, would only be a small burden.

The trustees feel that the people will co-operate with them in carrying the election which means so much to the high school. The work on the proposed new building will start early next year.

Te board of trustees of the Palo Alto high school notified the board that they would not receive any more scholars from this county. There are about forty high school students that have to be provided for at Runnymede.

After due consideration the board agreed to purchase a large buss to bring the pupils to the local school. It is to be in charge of the gardener or janitor at the new site. The trustees are advertising for the vehicle. The advertisement may be read in another page of this paper.

The trustees also agreed to sell the property now used as an athletic field on the highway. The price was fixed at $20,000.

Sequoia Union High School will open for the fall term on August 22. This is somewhat earlier than contemplated but it was necessary to do it.

The new corps of teachers for the coming term as selected, is as follows:

A. C. Argo, principal; B. E. Meyer, commercial department; Mary A. Cowden, English; Rose M. Kelly, languages; Minnie A. Parli, mathematics; S. Shrait, drawing; C. J. Hoyle, English; Ann W. Neff, history; Adanell Gerwin, librarian; Mildred Proctor, domestic science; Professor Gill, mechanical arts, A. M. Cuthburtson, science.

Many of the new tachers will reside in the buildings at the new site. A caretaker will be appointed at once for the grounds and buildings.

REDWOOD CITIZEN ASSISTED IN DIAMOND JUBILEE IN S.F.

M. D. Clar, whose attractive home is on the Whipple road, attended the State's Diamond Jubilee in San Francisco last Saturday, July 9, and assisted in raising the flag. His father the late Captain John Clar was with Commodore Sloat when the flag was raised for the first time at Monterey on July 9, 1846 and when this glorious state became the possession of the United States. He was at the raising a few days afterwards at San Francisco when Mr. Montgomery flung Old Glory to the balmy breezes of the bay. Captain Clar was a distinguished naval officer and for years was an instructor in the navy. He had a brilliant career in the service. It was but fitting that his son should assist in again raising the flag at California's Diamond Jubilee. Mr. Clar felt a thrill of pride when he assisted at the ceremony, one similar to that which took place in Monterey seventy-five years ago. What strides this Golden State has made in that short time.

The great empire is sought by all peoples from all lands. It is the mecca for all those seeking health, happiness adn wealth. It is only in its infancy. California is the greatest state in the Union and is destined to become the great empire of the West.

SWIMMERS SWARM TO THE OLD SWIMMING POOL

The swimming pool at Homestead creek has been a very popular place during the past two weeks, not only have the local people enjoyed the bathing, but Palo Alto and San Mateo residents also come down to enjoy it. While the bathing place is exceptionally fine the road out there is very rough and the bathing houses are a disgrace to the community. Some of the boys of the town who have more strength than brains have broken the doors down, have written on the walls of the bath house and have been generally ornery.

It is to be hoped that the town trustees will spend a few dollars in making some needed repairs.

THE HIGHER COURT RETURNS CASE

The court of appeals for this district on Thursday set aside the verdict in the case of Mrs. David Noce and her children against the United Railroads of San Francisco and sent the case back to this county for a retrial.

The case was tried before a jury in the superior court some time ago and a verdict was rendered for the plaintiffs for the sum of $50,000. The judgment was reduced to $25,000 by Judge Buck some time later, holding that it was excessive. The defendant appealed the case and on Thursday Hall C. Ross, for the United Railroads argued the case before the higher tribunal with the result that the judgment was set aside and a new trial ordered. The case for the plaintiffs was argued by A. P. Black and Percy Long.

In 1919 David Noce was killed by a runaway car belonging to the company near Colma. The motor man on the car was struck by a passing automobile and thrown from his seat. The car went on a mad rush down a hill striking Noce who was driving a truck. Noce was killed instantly. Soon after his wife and two small children brought suit to recover damages in the sum of $50,000. Hall C. Ross appeared at the trial of the case with Attorney Cannon for the railroad company while George Levinski, Louis Ferrari and Attorney Drobrisch represented the widow and asked for $50,000. It was the largest verdict ever secured for damages in the county by any plaintiff.

The argument made by Mr. Ross before the higher court was a very able one. The court was nuanimous in its decision.

FAILURE TO PAY ALIEN TAX WILL BAR CITIZENSHIP

Aliens who have filed their first papers and who are about to complete their naturalization after August 1, were warned by Judge W. W. Morrow of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals that they must register as provided under the State alien poll tax law, or their failure to do so might result in their being denied citizenship.

County Clerk Elizabeth M. Nash, sends out this announcement so that applicants for citizenship may not fail to comply with the State law obliging them to register and pay poll tax.

Judge Morrow stated that it was only fair to announce to these aliens the stand of the government relative to this, but emphasized the fact that the court was not passing upon constitutionality of the law, declaring that was a matter to be decided only when it had been brought before the Federal or State courts under different procedure.

Judge Morrow's statement as recorded by the clerk of the court is:

"The atention of the court has been called to a recent law of this State commonly known as the 'Alien Poll Tax Law,' 'which requires that all male alien inhabitants of this State over the age of 21 years and under 60 years of age, with certain specified exceptions, shall register before August 1 next, with the county clerk or registrar of voters, the court deems it proper to notify all aliens who seek naturalization in this court that a failure to comply with the requirements of said law as to registration may result in delay and failure to secure naturalization."

Obedience to the laws of the State as well as the Nation is the first and most important qualification for a citizen.

ORDER MADE TO CANCEL THE NOTES IN COBURN ESTATE

Judge Buck on Thursday made an order directing W. A. Brooke, administrator of the estate of Loren Coburn, deceased, to cancel the note and mortgage held by the administrator against C. H. Widemann, amounting to $146,159.84 for $117,000. The petition of W. A. Brooke asking for the cancellation recites that on July 24, 1920 Widemann purchased the timber land of the Coburn estate for $153,840.15 and the sale was confirmed by the court. According to the terms of the sale Widemann paid the sum of $7680.31 at the time of the delivery of the deed, the balance to be paid at the rate of $10,00 a year for six years, and the balance to be settled on the seventh year. Widemann gave his note and a mortgage on the property for the amount, the note to bear no interest. The note is not due and the big estate would remain unsettled for a period of seven years. All concerned thought it for the best interest of the heirs to accept the settlement. The money put out at interest at a moderate rate would amount to more than the difference between the amount of the note and the sum received in the settlement. The estate will be distributed in a short time.

Widemann recently transferred his entire holdings at Pescadero, consisting of 10,600 acres of farming land and 4500 acres of timber land formerly belonging to the Coburn estate, to a corporation known as the Peninsula Farms Company. Deed to the property were filed in the office of the county recorder during the week.

Attached to the deed are revenue stamps amounting to $900, indicating that the value of the property ransferred is placed a the sum of $900,000.

With the filing of this deal a mortgage from the Peninsula Farms company to the First Federal Trust company, as trustees, covering the entire properties, was also filed. The purpose of the mortgage is to secure the issuance of $900,000 first mortgage 7½ per cent serial gold bond. George C. Miller is given as the president and C. H. Widemann as the secretary of the Peninsula Farms company.

SAN CARLOS ITEMS

The attitude of Postmaster General Will H. Hayes toward his position and those under his jurisdiction is very pleasing to the little postmasters of the country as they all look forward to an early readjustment of their salaries and working conditions and just and impartial treatment during Mr. Hays' administration. This happy state of affairs in the postal department has been brought about largely through the postmasters' organization; the National League of Postmasters, and its representatives at Washington. Mr. Hays highly approves of organizations of this kind as a means of bringing about a better understanding and a closer relationship between the heads of departments and the rank and file, as indicated by letters received by state president Cowgill which was addressed to National Representative Stonesifer by Mr. Hays respecting the national convention of the league which is to convene at Washington City next October, which reads in part as follows:

"I notice from The Advocate that the annual convention of the National League of Postmasters is to be held in Washington October 11-14th.

"I am glad to learn that this convention is to be held in the National Capital and, through The Advocate, I should like to invite these delegates to hold their meetings in the Assembly Room of the Post Office Department Building. This will bring them in direct touch with the heads of the Department, who will undobutedly be glad to co-operate with them in making this the most successful convention which they have ever held. It is my earnest desire to have every official and employee of the postal service feel that the Department is ready at all tims to co-operate with them in any way for the betterment of the service.

Wishing The Advocate continued prosperity in the work it is doing for the closer relationship between the Postmasters and the Department, I am, Cordially yours,

(Signed WILL H. HAYS."

All those at the Varney field here were grieved to learn of the death of Bud Coffey through the office of the News-Leader of San Mateo last Thursday morning. Coffey had been back only a few days from his trip to Portland and Seattle where he had gone from Rock Springs with the Carpentier-Dempsey pictures in the big ship Bristol of the Varney fields. After he delivered the Bristol back at San Carlos he went to Oakland to take a party to Yosemite Valley in a big monoplane built and owned by Jakuzzi of Oakland. It was on the return trip from the valley that the gasoline tank exploded in mid air near Modesto about 8 o'clock Thursday morning and catpulted the entire party of four to the ground in a mass of flames. Coffey was accompanied by Jakuzzi the owner of the plane, Jack Kauke and Duncan McLeish. Bud Coffey was formerly associated with Aviator Fowler but had been working independently for the past two years. Coffey had left his own plane, the Lincoln Standard in the Varney hangar here.

V. Clark. With our new speed cop, F. S. Quinn and Deputy Clark on the job our residents have but little to fear from the would-be transgressors of the law in this neck of the woods.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FAVORS SWIMMING POOL

Last Wednesday the local Chamber of Commerce held a very important meeting at which much business was transacted.

All the members were enthusiastic concerning the future of the peninsula. Reports of progress were made on the Dumbarton bridge enterprise and the electrification of the Southern Pacific lines was received with much interest.

A committee consisting of Dr. J. P. H. Dykes, John Layng and J. D. Hedge was appointed to confer with the trustees of Sequoia Union High School for the construction of a swimming pool at the new site in Redwood Highlands. This, however, is not necessary as a pool is already established there with all necessary equipment.

President Frank K. Towne also appointed a committee consisting of A. E. Montieth, Guy P. Hull, G. G. Lambert to consult with the city trustees in the matter of moving the present municipal sign on Broadway to the State Highway and also to construct proper designating signs at the two entrances to Redwood City.

Mr. Towne made the announcement that he would shortly appoint an influential membership committee.

The Chamber enthusiastically endorsed the proposition of H. C. Finkler, who has asked the board of supervisors to construct a concrete bridge across Cordilleras creek, on the Canyada road.

The Chamber adopted new by-laws.

The new by-laws provide that the government of the Chamber shall be vested in a board of directors, who shall be nominated and elected by the members of the organization. The nominations shall be made fifteen days prior to the election by means of a direct primary, ballots accompanied by the membership roster being mailed to each member, who shall designate as many candidates as there are directors to be elected. From the candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the primary, twice the number of the directors to be elected, shall be declared nominated.

Within ten days after the annual election, the directors shall meet and elect officers for the ensuing year—a president, vice-president, a scretary and a treasurer. All of the officers must be members of the board of directors, except the treasurer. Subsequently the board may elect a manager.

REDWOOD CITY WINS SUIT IN SUPERIOR COURT

Judge Benjamin Knight of Santa Cruz sitting for Judge Buck in the case of Redwood Highlands against the Town of Redwood City and others rendered a decision yesterday in favor of the defendants.

In 1909 the town issued ten years street improvement bonds for street work to be done in district 13 and 14 which included nearly all of that part of town known as Dingee Park. When the bonds matured two years ago the bond holders discovered that there was a deficit of $6,599.14. They at once went to the court of appeals and had a writ of mandamus issued compelling the municipality to levy a supplemental assessment on the property. The property owners resisted this setting up the fact that the money paid in the first instance was sufficient to meet all demands and that they were not responsible for errors, omissions, etc., of the municipal authorities. Then, too, the money raised by the supplemental assessment could not be used to pay a deficit. The court holds their contention to be sound law and gives his decision accordingly. This decision will be a sigh of relief to the Redwood Highlands land owners. The decision of the court is quite lengthy

SENATOR S. M. SHORTRIDGE ENJOYS A FISHING TRIP

The rotogravure supplement of the Washington Star of recent date contains a picture of Senator Samuel M. Shortridge in a fishing attitude on the banks of t Maryland stream.

The inscription is as follows:

"Senator Samuel Morgan Shortridge of California is one of the enthusiastic fishemen of the Senate. The camera man caught him Saturday a week ago at pools where still waters run deep."

Mr. Shortridge in his younger years in Santa Clara county was an enthusiastic angler. Every stream of that county was whipped by him. In those days he was considered a successful Ike Walton. In later years he laid aside the rod and reel for Blackstone and still later dropped his line in the political pool, winning much success with both.

DUCK HUNTING REMINISENCES

(By CLAUD FOX)

Again the Dark Angel has hovered in our midst, and another of the boys of yesterday, one more of the trigger pullers of the happy days that have passed, has been summoned to his eternal rest. The stubble fields of the Nash and Cooley ranches, the old Gamble or Flood pond, the barley strewn acres of the Sweeny ranch, the Mudhole at Billy Carnduff's and the Little Pond at the First Fence, where J. J. "Jack" McEvoy, as we all knew him, spent many happy hours in pursuit of the wary widgeon and saucy little green wing teal, places which on this earth were dear to him, will know him no more.

In his passing a personality has been lost, that will be sadly missed by those who knew him. Upright and straightforward, a man, every inch of him, loving husband, kind and indulgent father, true friend, the world is better for your having lived. Fate was unkind to such a man as he, for in the fullness of his years the mother of his children and a devoted boy were both taken, when the evening of his life should have been spent in contentment and happiness.

How vividly to my memory comes back an incident of one night of long ago, when I was but a kid at the game of wild duck shooting.

Fred Stalter, Jack McEvoy and myself were strung out along the First Fence, Jack up at the old swamp, Fred at the Little Pond, with myself in the middle at the cross fence. It was early in the season, a beautiful night, with fleecy white clouds under the full moon making it almost as light as day. Occasionally a little green winged teal passed along on its way to water, and the bang of a shot gun above or below me indicated that a wild duck's life was none too pleasant.

Suddenly a flock of large ducks came flying directly over me, between fifty and sixty yard shigh. I knew it was a long shot, but my little Scott gun mechanically came to my shoulder, and pressing the trigger I was delighted to see one of the birds come tumbling downward. It was a widgeon, the first of the season. I was just bubbling over with boyhood enthusiasm when I picked up that duck, and up the fence I hurried to show my prize. "What did you get that shot," Jack called out before I reched him: "A widgeon," I replied, "It was a dandy shot, Jack, but they were a mile high." How Jack McEvoy did laugh. He was nine years older than myself, and he took great pleasure in noting my excitement and gratification over the long shot I had made, but it was impossible for him to conceive my making a dandy shot with the flock a mile high. We were always firm friends but Jack never quit kidding me over my exclamation that night.

Jack McEvoy has passed on, but to those who knew him in life, his memory will ever be held dear, and, if I live until the flutter of the wild ducks' wings are heard this winter, and a flock swings within range, I shall say to myself, as I prepare to press the trigger of my shot gun, here goes to the memory of that true friend, gentleman and sportsman, J. J. "Jack" McEvoy.

N. Y. POSTAL SITUATION

The Joint Commission on Postal Facilities created by the last Congress was completely ignored by Mr. Burleson, who refused to co-operate with it in many way. Postmaster General Hayes, on the other hand, is going to make unlimited use of their services in contributing to the general efficiency of the postal service. "I found this commission in existence but not functioning much when I came into office," says Mr. Hayes. "I look upon the postal committees of the two Houses of Congress as the board of directors of a large corporation, furnishing the money and passing on large matters of policy. I have piled all the work possible upon them."

To mark the beginning of a new activity on the part of the Joint Commission, Mr. Hayes accompanied its members to New York the other day, where a detailed examination of everything pertaining to the New York office was made. Few people realize how intimate an interest the entire country has in the efficient working of that post office. Most of the foreign mail leaves and enters the port of New York, which makes of the New York office the "neck of the bottle," as Mr. Hayes describes it. Since 1912 its business has increased 289 per cent, during which period there has been little, if any, increase in the facilities for handling the mail. It is said that New York handles more mail than the entire Dominion of Canada.

The New York postal situation has become so acute that additional accommodations for the work have become imperative. It was to determine at first hand what those additions should be that the Joint Commission visited the city. Senator Charles E. Townsend of Michigan is chairman of the commission, and accompanying him on the trip of inspection were Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, Congressman W. W. Griest of Pennsylvania, and the minority members.

DOVE LIGHTS AT LAST

Peace with Germany is at last a fact. Almost two years and eight months after the actual cessation of hostilities, the war, so far as the United States is concerned, is officially declared at an end. There is no more remarkable chapter in the history of the country than that recounting the events of the armistice period. The people have been helpless to bring an early peace. Their Senators and Representatives in Congress performed their duty when they enacted a peace resolution last winter and sent it to the President for his signature, but he negatived their efforts with an executive veto. He served notice to the country and the world that he intended the war to continue until peace could be written on terms dictated by him alone.

But those terms held little favor with the great majority of the people, and through their Republican Senators they proclaimed their preference for technical war rather than submit to dictation by a coterie of foreign diplomats in all their future dealings with the other nations of the world. As the months go by added proof is forthcoming of the wisdom of our Republican legislators in refusing to bind the country as the democratis President urged. Extolled as the means by which the world would be regenerated and saved from all future wars, the league of nations has become a complete nonetity. With more than 40 members, including the greatest powers of the world other than the United States, it has utterly failed to prevent fighting in various parts of the earth; in fact, practical measures for peace have not been even attempted.

It has been proclaimed many times that without the United States as a member, the league of nations could not successfully function. That has been amyply demonstrated, but along with the demonstration has gone the realization that if the United States were to become a member she would be called upon th carry into execution herself all the onerous duties imposed by the provisions of the league covenant. Those nations that are so faithless in carrying out their own obligations under that instrument would be the first to hold the United States to a strict accountability for the fullest performance of her own pledges.

The ultimate purpose of the league was to put an end to war. It has abjectly failed to take a step in that direction. The United States acting alone and independently has not only now ended its war with Germany without incurring any of the obligations of the Versailles Treaty that the other belligerents signed, but it has effectively prevented a war between Panama and Costa Rica, subdued the warlike element in Haiti and San Domingo, removed the causes for a bloody political revolution brewing in Cuba, taken steps to arbitrate differences between this country and Japan, and in other ways contributed materially to world peace.

And all this has been done without the slightest yield of the national sovereignty; in fact, the world has been made to see that the supine attitude that characterized the conduct of our foreign relations in the recent past has been laid aside, and that America will not longer play the role of a supreme sacrifice on the altar of the world. The American notes to the powers on the general principle of mandates, coupled with official utterances of our representatives at home and abroad, have brought other nations to a proper conception of America's place in the world.

The approval of the resolution marked the final act in bringing the country independence from the internationalism that has hung over it for so long. The future celebrations of Independence Day will have a two-fold significance. They will commemorate our freedom from European domination in 1776, and equally our final freedom in 1921 from the dastardly attempt to return to that domination. The executive approval of the peace resolution is the crowning incident to the most glorious achievement of the Republican party.

A CATTLE MAN'S VIEW

Senator James W. Wadsworth of New York holds to the view that Congress has no right, under the constitution, to enact legislation regulating the stock yard business. It is attempted to do that under the provisions of the so-called meat packer bill now pending in Congress. Friends of the measure take the position that inasmuch as Congress can regulate the packer industry, which is admittedly engaged in interstate commerce, it can also prescribe rules for the stockyards, which are a necessary part of the packer business. Senator Wadsworth contends that the Supreme Court has determined that the business of conducting a stockyard is not an interstate commerce activity, and therefore not subject to regulation by Congress. The Senator is one of many opponents to legislation of the sort contained in the packer bill. He believes with President Harding that there should be more business in government.

IS BRITAIN DECEIVING..

In view of the recent announcement which the Department of State felt impelled to issue it will not be surprising if the people of this country read with a large measure of suspicion dispatches which come from across the Atlantic regarding international relations.

In view of a despatch of the Associated Press, with respect to the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, to the effect that 'it is understood that the State Department has been kept fully informed of the plans o fthe British government and that it has been given assurance that in the renewal of the treaty every precaution will be taken to guard against the inclusion of anything inimical to American right,' it is deemd proper to say that the State Department is not informed with respect to plans of the British government and has received no assurances in the matter."

When the Asosciated Press correspondent in London asserted that 'it is understood that the State Department has been kept fully informed" he undoubtedly had received such information from some official source. The correspondent of a news agency with the high standing of the Associated Press must also have had official authority for his statement that the State Department has been given assurances that in a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty every precaution will be taken to guard against the inclusion of anything inimical to American right.

It appears, therefore, that misleading statements are given out from official sources in Great Britain for the information of the people of the United States. The inaccuracy was so great and the subject matter so important that the Department of State felt it necessary for its own protection and for the guidance of the American people to issue a denial. If, as seems an inevitable inference, British authorities are thus spreading unture propaganda in the United States, this will not be the first instance of the kind. Moreover, if further explanation in this particular intsance, to which the country is entitled and which it will certainly expect, discloses that British authorities have been deliberately resorting to deception, the people of America will find a way of manifesting their resentment.

It must be admitted that the United States, owing to the delinquency of some of its officials, has not always dealt entirely with frankness in the performance of its nudertakinga. When the treaty of peace with Germany had been completed and a treaty of alliance for purposes of defense was negotiated between Great Britain, France and the United States the concluding paragraph of this second treaty provided that this treaty would be submitted to the Senate at the same time as he treaty of peace. Notwithstanding that explicit provision, President Wilson did not submit the treaty of defense alliance at the same time that he submitted the treaty with Germany. Neither did he inform the country of the existence of such a treaty until forced by public discussion.

While this breach of faith on the part of a high American official must be admitted with no small degree of humiliation, yet it can be said in defense of the people of the United States that at the first opportunity they repudiated the official who had thus brought discredit upon their government. If officials in Great Britain have been guilty of misleading the peoples of that nation and the United States they should be rebuked in a manner no less decisive than that by which the people of the United States rebuked their chief executive. There can be no satisfactory relations between two great world powers unless there is frankness and sincerity in international communications.

A BREATHING SPELL

Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the Finance Committee, says that Congress will do little more pending the perfection of fiscal legislation by the committee. He predicts that each House will soon be taking three-day recesses, while the tariff and internal revenue bills are being framed. After the tariff bill is received from the House by the Senate. Mr. Penrose says the Finance Committee will require about two months to study its provisions and hear witnesses who wish to present their views. In his opinion Congress will finish its work not earlier than the 1st of October.

UNION OIL COMPANY TAKES LEASE ON SAN BRUNO LOT

The Union Oil Company of California has taken a lease from A. D. Jenevine, with an option to purchase, on Jenevine's property opposite Uncle Tom's Cabin at San Bruno, according to papers filed in the office of Recorder T. C. Rice at Redwod City on Saturday.

It is expected that the company will shortly construct one of the finest oil and gasoline stations on the peninsula at this point.

SAN CARLOS ITEMS

Master Oliver Burr and Miss Jean Burr from Cherrydale, Hayward, California, are visiting at the home of their aunt, Mrs. John Farnham.

Maury Cowgill arrived home last Thursday night from a week's visit on the ranch of his uncle, Henry O. Maury, near Medford, Oregon. When Young Cowgill learned that Bud Coffey, the aviator, made his first stop at the Medford field on his way from San Carlos to Portland and Seattle with the Dempsey-Carpentier pictures he regretted that he didn't delay his visit to Medford one day in order to enjoy the four hundred mile trip via. airship in two hours rather than 19 hours by train.

L. N. Pollard, the Redwod City contractor, as the lowest bidder, glazed the front porch of the Cowgill bungalow, Chris Cussen, another of Redwood City's contractors, as the low man, built Cowgill's garage.

Ben Zimmerman, the architect and builder, in addition to constructing ten bungalows for the San Carlos Land company, has under construction the Tate store building and a number of other bungalows for individuals who bought home sites from other parties who had held their property since the tract was opened thirty years ago by the late Captain N. T. Smith and Timothy Hopkins.

Robt. D. Schott and wife, the young couple who recently purchased the W. H. Foote place near the school house have shown the sincerity of their belief in the Rooseveltian doctrine by presenting the community with a ten pound boy who will help to enlarge our school attendance six years hence.

Mrs. F. T. Odgers has taken advantage of her husband's two weeks vacation by going on a fortnight's visit with friends and relatives in Oakland while our school trustees take care of the home and the larger children and helps the other trustees solve the problem as to where our next teacher is to come from to succeed our popular teacher, Miss Gertrude Hind, who served us for over five years previous, to tendering her resignation to accept a more remunerative position in the Burlingame schools.

From the present outlook it would appear that in order to assure harmony in the Peninsula Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce of the peninsula we will be compelled to establish enough offices in the new organization to hand one to each of the presidents and secretaries of the several chambers connected with the bureau excepting the mayor of San Carlos, who is a very unobstrusive, modest and retiring gentleman, and who always gives way to the other aspirants for official title. The three cities chambers have seen to it that their officers were well taken care of at the preliminary meeting, and which reminds one of Great Britain's six votes in the league of nations.

Miss Marvyn Cowgill, who accompanied Mrs. Lila Kirkpatrick as far as Medford, Oregon, on Mrs. Kirkpatrick's trip to Portland in June, and who is visiting on her uncle's ranch near Medford, was delighted when Bud Coffey, the aviator, landed on the Medford field to learn that he had just taken off from the San Carlos field just a few hours before on his trip to Portland and Seattle.

Mr. R. P. Hurlbut, the San Carlos architect and builder, has sold the southwest corner lot on Walnut and Cypres savenues to Captain W. C. Johnson, who recently moved into the Hurlbut apartments from San Francisco, with a view of selecting a site and building a home here. Mr. Johnson has also awarded Mr. Hurlbut the contract to build a bungalow on his lot which will be an exact replica of the picturesque and artistic home which Mr. Hurlbut recently completed for Ex-District Attorney J. J. Bullock of Redwood City.

SECOND SUIT FILED ON ACCOUNT OF AUTO CRASH

Rud. M. Sealtzer, wealthy resident of Redding, is for the second time defendant in a suit for damages growing out of an automobile crash on the State Highway at Belmont on August 14, 1920, J. Holmes Wade of San Francisco, through his attorneys, Knight & Christin, having this week filed suit in the superior court for $3400 damages.

Wade was riding in a car driven by his wife, Harriet S. Wade, at the time of his accident. Mrs. Wade sued Saeltzer for $20,150.90, following the accident, and was awarded a verdict of $250 by a jury before Superior Judge George H. Buck on May 3, last. Her attorneys moved for a new trial which was refused by the court, and she finally accepted the $250 in full settlement of her claim.

Wade now alleges that due to the careles driving of Saeltzer he was thrown out of his seat, receiving cuts and bruises which caused him great pain and anguish, his personal injuries amounting to $3000. In addition he asks $200 for the time he was unable to attend to business, following the accident, and $200 for the time his wife was unable to attend to her household duties.

Saeltzer was represented at the first trial by Franklin Swart.

MAYFIELD ROAD WILL SOON BE REPAIRED BY CONTRACT

Many residents of San Mateo county who journey down the state highway will be pleased to learn that the bad section of road at Mayfield which has been in the worst condition possible for several years past, is soon to be a thing of history.

Through an arrangement made with the county of Santa Clara the California State Highway Commission has at last awarded a contract for the work of repaving this stretch of road, along with several other miles of highway in that county. It is expected that the work of paving this particular stretch will be started in the near future and rushed to completion.

DEED FILED COVERING NEW SITE OF SEQUOIA HIGH SCHOOL

A deed was filed Monday in the office of County Recorder at Redwood City by which the Sequoia Union high school district becomes the owner of 40.062 acres of land known as the Pissis Tract, on which the new Sequoia Union high school is soon to be erected.

The deed is from Ethel Stein, known as Ethel Pissis, the daughter of George Pissis, and carries $80 in revenue stamps, indicating a consideration of $80,000. The property is located on the west side of the state highway at Redwod City, immediately south of the Broadway crossing.

CO-OPERATION BETWEEN THE PUBLIC AND THE PUBLIC SERVICE INDUSTRY

Superior Service at a Reasonable Cost is the paramount aim of public service companies today. Upon the accomplishment of this aim rests the success and continued well being of the companies that render public service and the satisfaction of the public they serve. The public service companies, their property and personnel are dedicated to the high ideal of progressively better service to the public.

This recognition by the public service companies of their proper relation to the public imposes upon the public an equally compelling responsibility to deal fairly with the companies that minister to the public welfare and to approach any questons in which their common interests are involved in a spirit of open-minded fairness as between man and man.

It is only by such mutual regard for the rights of each other that the best interests of both can be properly safeguarded and the causes of distrust and even of open enmity be avoided. There can no longer be any divergence of interest between the people and the companies rendering public service.

Who says that "bargain" tires are what the people want

MOST everybody knows the easy-going sort of man who never takes a tire seriously until he gets a blow-out.

How long he will resist universal tire education is a question.

But this is sure—

More people are finding out every day that between leaving things to luck and getting real economy there is a big difference.

Many a car-owner has come to U. S. Tires because he couldn't afford to keep on paying that difference.

Probably seven out of ten users of U. S. Tires came to them only after they'd had enough of "discounts", "bargain offers", "clearance sales of surplus stocks" and other similar appeals.

They have found economy—and they stick to it.

They pay a net price—not "something off list" that may not mean anything in the first place.

They get fresh, live tires, being made and shipped while this message is being written.

No matter where they live there's a nearby U. S. Dealer with his nearby U. S. Factory Branch.

U. S. Tires keep moving.

No opportunity to get old and dried out. No shifting here and there trying to find a market.

Every U. S. Tire a good tire, wherever you find it anywhere in the country.

Because the U. S. policy is a good policy that serves the car-owner all the time.

Doing the very best for him that human good faith can do.

THE U. S. CHAIN TREAD

One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handsomest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S. Fabric Tire line.

WOODSIDE NEWS NOTES

The death of James A. Folger, the well-known merchant of San Francisco on Tuesday last, was a severe shock to his many friends in Woodside where he spent many happy hours at his palatial country place. There he entertained his friends elaborately, there he passed his leisure moments away from the citys madden crowd in the quiet recesses of his mountain home. He loved nature and liked to bask in the sunshine of his suburban abode.

Mr. Folger died following an operation for appendicitis at the Adler's sanitarium.

2889 Pacific avenue, was born in San Francisco fifty-eight years ago. He spent his childhood in Nantucket, Mass., returning here for his education.

When 26 years old Folger assumed control of J. A. Folger & Co., established by his father. He became president of the concern, and his brother, Ernest vice-president.

Folger was vice-president of the National Coffee Roasters' Association and until this year president of the Pacific Coast Coffee Roasters' Association. He was a member of the Bohemian Club and several local golf clubs.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Clara F. L. Folger, two stepdaughters Mrs. J. A. Donohoe, Jr., Mrs. Platt Kent, and a stepson, John Cunningham and two sons, Peter Folger and J. A. Folger, Jr., a student at Yale. The funeral took place from St. Mary's Cathedral on Thursday.

Mr. Folger was a lovable man, kind and considerate and beloved by all.

SAN CARLOS ITEMS

Chief Pilot H. G. Andrews at the Varney Aviation field who was at Vallejo giving flying exhibitions during the afternoon and evening of July 4th returned with the airplane Bristol last Monday morning and returning to Vallejo by train and boat brought back another ship to the San Carlos field the same afternoon.

Owing to engine trouble Walter Varney was unable to take off from the San Carlos field for Los Angeles on the afternoon of the Fourth, where he was to carry the Carpentier-Dempsey pictures for Los Angeles which had ben brought in from the East by Pilot Bud Coffey and the aerial mail ships. After several attempts to take to the air Mr. Varney returned to the field and turned the pictures and his contract from the Newspaper Enterprise Association over to Ray Black and his pilot Arthur Borun who had unexpectedly arrived from San Jose and who left for Los Angeles at 3:45 p. m. as soon as they could take on a supply of gas. They were expected to stop at Bakersfield just long enough to take on gas and reach Los Angeles by 7:30 p.m., but owing to engine trouble they had a forced landing at Lancaster, a small place just out of Los Angeles. The pictures were sent into Los Angeles by special messenger and after repairs wre made Black and Pilot Borun left for home, reaching here last Thursday morning. Mr. Black's plane is a 220 horse-power ship and has made several long and successful flights, and was built from the ground up by Mr. Black personally on Sundays and evenings while he was in the employ of the Cadalac people as an auto mechanic.

Mrs. Jno. A. Gill wife of the genial and popular tariff inspector for the S. P. Co., was in San Carlos yesterday looking for a furnished or unfurnished bungalow for sale or for rent. Mr. and Mrs. GIH have both been favorably impressed with San Carlos for some time and hope to soon find a place here for sale or for rent which suits them.

At the last regular meeting of the San Carlos Chamber of Commerce secretary Cowgill was instructed to write, asking the Board of Supervisors of San Mateo county to arrange for a traffic officer to be stationed regularly at the intersection of Cypress avenue and the State Highway to regulate and direct the traffic at this point in order to insure the safety of the vehicular travel in and out of San Carlos and those on foot who crosses the Highway at that point going to and from the post-office and railroad station. Frank S. Quinn who was placed in charge for last Sunday and the Fourth proved himself an exceptionally efficient and affable officer, and while he was forced to hold up many for cutting in at this point and for other infractions he was very courteous in his treatment of these first offenders, but we surmise that these parties will approach Cypress avenue very cautiously when they pass this way again. The secretary was also directed to write Constable Maurice Boland, constable of the Second township at San Mateo, asking that he consider the appointment of a deputy to look after civic affairs in this locality, at the same time recommending that Jno. V. Clark, treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce, be given the appointment as he is in position to give the work of the office prompt attention at all times. Owing to the large increase in population and the number of new homes going up and the great necessity of having a health officer on the job the secretary was also requested to address County Haith Officer Dr. F. Holmes Smith at San Bruno respectfully requesting that he appoint one of our local physicians to look after the sanitary conditions in our little city. And Dr. Jno. G. Null was given the unanimous endorsement of the organization for the appointment. The next thing is to find a garbage man so that the doctor's work will be made easy.
